Old Fellows' Anniversary.

Last Saturday was a gala day with the colored people here. The third anniversary of Free Sons of Lodge of Grand United Order of Odd Fellows was celebrated here last Saturday by a large number of the colored people from all parts of the Green River country.

The Owensboro colored brass band, "Twilights," were present and headed the procession. They marched out to the fair grounds where they spent several hours in eating and speaking. About 4 o'clock they marched back to town, and at night had a festival at the Court House where Rev. Allen Allenworth, of Bowling Green, and Rev. O. P. Ross, of Huntsville, Ala., indulged in some very sensible and appropriate remarks concerning the situation of the negro. They told the colored people if they wanted to be respected they must Christianize themselves, educate themselves, be more moral, etc.

The colored people acquitted themselves very nicely, and especially do we mention the gentlemanly conduct of the members of the band.

Chas. Kennedy and Charles Parks are entitled to a good deal of credit for the manner in which the celebration was conducted.

The net receipts of the festival was $81.00.

Freemason's Mills.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, which we had pooled at two years before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents.—Telegram.

By virtue of an order of the Ohio County Court, rendered at the June term, 1881, I will cause a poll to be opened at Rosine, Ohio county, Ky., on Monday, August 1, 1881, for the purpose of taking the sense of the voters of said district whether or not license shall be granted to retail spirituous liquors in said Rosine voting district.

The vote will be taken under and by virtue of what is known as the Local Option Law.

DAVID L. SMITH, Sheriff Ohio County.

June 24, 1881. 26-1

James Lankford and James A. Griggs were summoned to appear before the grand jury and failing to attend attachments were awarded against them allowing them bail in sums of $100 each for their appearance at next court, when they will be required to answer a charge of contempt of court.

The case of Monroe Tinsley against John F. Rice, which was on trial at date of last issue, resulted in a hung jury. This is the second hung jury in this case. There were three lawyers on a side and nothing was left undone by either side. The trial elicited a great deal of interest. The jury stood ten for plaintiff and two for defendant. The lawyers in the case all made able, earnest speeches.

The suit of Mrs. E. J. Letcher against the Paducah & Elizabethtown R. R. Company for running one of their trains over her husband and killing him came up for trial last Thursday and resulted in a verdict Saturday morning of $2,500 for plaintiff. The railroad company will appeal.

Late Emory was sentenced to the penitentiary for ten months for intimidating Jordan Pearson, but the judgment was suspended for 90 days to give him a chance to have his case heard by the Court of Appeals.

C. W. Phillips, R. A. Stevens and W. P. Allen were appointed Jury Commissioners and reported.

Court adjourned Saturday at 1 o'clock, after a five weeks' session. Much business was transacted and a great many cases were worked off. Judge Little is an indefatigable worker and will in an ordinary session or so get up with the work here.

The Reason Why?

We issue a thousand extra copies of the HERALD this week because we feel it to be our duty to let the world know that the biggest and cheapest lot of dress goods—trimmings, silks and Hamburg edgings ever brought to Hartford will be opened at Anderson's Bazaar this week. This is what the 1000 extra copies mean.

No Other Explanation.

All the concentration of concurrent circumstances that an ostentatious display might pompously display to a fantastical conglomeration of egotistical dignitaries could in no event alleviate the execrable tortures incidental to the craniums, without a capital use of Crooke's celebrated "Never Fail." For sale by Thomas & Kimbley and Griffin Bros., druggists, Hartford, Ky.

From a Prominent Physician.

WASHINGTONVILLE, OHIO, June 17, 1881.

Reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and having a value in an speedy horse which had been lame from spavin eighteen months, I sent you for a bottle by express, which in six weeks removed all lameness and enlargement and a large splint from another horse, and both horses are to-day as sound as colts. The one bottle was worth to me one hundred dollars.

Yours truly,

H. A. BRYANT, M. D.

Homestead Tobacco Grower.

NEAR NEW LIBERTY, KY., January 27, 1880.

Michigan Orchard Worker.

Marathon of your "Homestead Tobacco Grower" on about three acres of stubble land (tobacco), applying one tablespoonful to the hill, after the plants were set. It started the tobacco off rapidly, and kept it green during the season. It matured some ten days earlier than my other tobacco. I estimated it was worth from three to five hundred pounds over the other in quantity and superior in quality.

LOUIS ALEXANDER.

ROCKFELLER, WARREN CO., KY., February 8, 1880.

GENTLEMEN—The barrel of Homestead Fertilizer I purchased of you last season gave full satisfaction, although the season was a bad one to test it. I feel assured that it merits all that is claimed for it, and shall give it a liberal patronage next season, and heartily commend it as a paying investment to all tobacco growers.

I. C. BARCLAY.

Cromwell.

Messrs. Vager and Berryman, who spent Sunday last in Cromwell, make the following summary of their trip:

Arrived at 10:15. Rested awhile and then went out in town. Got back to the hotel at 12:30. Then walked around awhile and went "down by the river side," where we staid till about 3 o'clock when we took the down boat and landed on the north-east corner of Pleasant Harbor, an island situated in the middle of Green river just below the city. This is a beautiful island and we spent some time in rambling over it, and while there "all two of us" got a pretty little button-hole basket made from the sua arborea and some other rare flowers. After "gathering up the shells from the seashore" we boarded the steamer coming up and landed at the city wharf at about 5 o'clock, p. m. After resting and refreshing ourselves at Seaside we had to take our departure with only an outside view of the new distillery—but we are always satisfied with an outside view of a whisky house.

We wanted to stay to singing school, but as we did not have the time to spare we had to leave much sooner than we wished. Will try and make it convenient to remain next time—which we hope is not far distant.

While there we put up at the Telford House where we had a good dinner as could be gotten at the Galt House. On the whole we were well pleased with the thriving little city of Cromwell and expect some day to see it rival even Owensboro itself.

Respectfully,

JOHN E. PENDLETON.
